KEYNOTE SPEAKER

BRAD MONTGOMERY

EMBRACING YOUR AWESOMENESS!

For business speaker Brad Montgomery, a funny thing happened on the way to law school. After graduating from Brown, his college “side hustle” of professional drumming, street magic and comedy clubs led him to performing on cruise ships and even the prestigious Hollywood Magic Castle. Brad turned his love for the stage into his life work of becoming a successful keynote speaker who helps people feel valued, appreciated, respected and recognized. He never made it to law school!

Brad is an entrepreneur, author, and podcaster. As a business keynote speaker, his expertise is increasing performance by focusing on the people side of the business. He speaks to businesses nationwide about harnessing the science of social and emotional support to encourage, support and retain employees.

Brad is a Certified Speaking Professional — the highest earned designation from the National Speakers Association. He is also a member of the Speakers Hall of Fame, an elite group of 150 inductees worldwide.

He has three awesome kids and an amazing wife of over 30 years. Brad loves playing jazz and funk and then heading out for roller hockey. And in an emergency, Brad can ride a unicycle while juggling.

CIRSA is honored to have Brad join us on June 18th. In his upbeat and fun presentation, Brad will help you uncover your hidden superpower: The Undeniable, Jaw-Dropping Power of Encouragement (The Leadership Strategy You Can't Afford to Ignore.)
